Dear Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs Hunt:

•The analysis proposes to devalue the life of a human over 70 to 2/3 that of the rest of the population and lowers the established EPA price tag of a human life from $6.1 million to $3.7 million.

•The OMB's conclusion that the lives of senior citizens are less valuable raises serious ethical and scientific questions.

I think that we need tougher environmental standards for the good health of all people who live in this country.

Sincerely,

Frank Dina
