Dear Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs Hunt:

When four people were asked: "what is the sum of 2 + 2?" three responded with "four." The one hired answered: "whatever you want it to be."

A mere accounting trick; statistics are based on so many non-recurring values, standardized none, that of course, you can justify the lies; most people, sheep they are, believe what they read.

The poor earth and its inhabitants cry . . .

God help us all.
Amen.

Sincerely,

Laura Lelievre
